

May 10-June 1, 2010

Season Extension Horticulture in China

PSS 4990/6990: 3 credit-Summer 2010. Students in all majors with an interest in agriculture, food science, and world trade policy are welcome to apply. Mississippi State University

Program Coordinator
Dr. Mengmeng Gu
mgu@pss.msstate.edu
662-325-1682

Space is limited to 12 students (4
students each from MS, AR, and FL).

Application and $100 deposit are due on March 1,
2010

HIGHLIGHTS

- Visit cities of Shouguang, Qingdao, Beijing, Wuhan, and Guangzhou in China
- Interact with students from the other two SEC universities and six Chinese institutions
- Develop an appreciation and understanding of horticulture crops season extension research, production, and marketing in China.
- Distinguish opportunities and technologies that would benefit US agriculture and economy
- Experience culture, history, cuisine and language of different regions of China
- Total estimated cost: $1,500 program fee (+ ~$1000 air fare + ~$650 tuition and fees + additional personal expenses)
- <http://msucares.com/crops/hightunnels/china/index.html>